DEFINITIONS

A mobile phone is a telephone and any device that may connect to or have a similar functionality to a mobile phone such as smart watches with access to a cellular (telecommunication) system, with or without a physical connection to a network

POLICY

Vermont South Special School understands that students may bring a personal mobile phone to school.

At Vermont South Special School:

- Students who choose to bring mobile phones to school must give them to their classroom teacher for the front office where they will be securely stored during school hours
- Exceptions to this policy may be applied if certain conditions are met (see below for further information)

Personal mobile phone use

In accordance with the Department's Mobile Phones – Student Use Policy issued by the Minister for Education, personal mobile phones must not be used at Vermont South Special School during school hours, including lunchtime and recess, unless an exception has been granted.

Where a student has been granted an exception, the student must use their mobile phone for the purpose for which the exception was granted, and in a safe, ethical and responsible manner.

Secure storage

Mobile phones owned by students at Vermont South Special School are considered valuable items and are brought to school at the owner's (student's or parent/carer's) risk. Students are encouraged not to bring a mobile phone to school unless there is a compelling reason to do so. Please note that Vermont South Special School does not have accident insurance for accidental property damage or theft. Students and their parents/carers are encouraged to obtain appropriate insurance for valuable items. Refer to the [\[Vermont South Special School Personal Property Policy AND/OR the Department's Claims for Property Damage and Medical Expenses policy\]](#)

Where students bring a mobile phone to school, Vermont South Special School will provide secure storage. Secure storage is storage that cannot be readily accessed by those without permission to do so. At Vermont South Special School students are required to give their phones to their classroom teacher or to the front office where they will be stored securely
